

Kingsuk Golui

Professor Kingsuk Golui did his graduation in 2005 from Narasingha Dutta College topping in the class, and then did his post graduation from University of Calcutta in 2007 with specialisation in logic. He scored seventy five percent marks in logic but later on his interest shifted to Yoga philosophy. His interest was not only on the philosophical aspect of yoga, but its practice in life as a path to mental calmness. He got attached to various institutions on kriyayoga, both international and national. He participated in various workshops on kriyayoga, organised by internationally recognised institutions of Ireland and USA. In the year 2010 he started his teaching career as a guest teacher in a school, and in the following year he joined Kishore Bharati Bhagini Nivedita College (Co-Ed) as a guest faculty in the department of philosophy. At present he is a government approved teacher in the same department of the college. Besides teaching he is attached to an institution doing social welfare activities like providing medical treatment, providing clothes to the poor and needy people and providing books to the under privileged children.
