Background

Kishore Bharati Bhagini Nivedita College (Co-Ed.), previously known as Kishore Bharati Bhagini Nivedita Girls' College, was founded in the year 2001 with the objective of imparting quality education in subjects under the Arts, Science and Commerce stream. Though our college enjoys an urban locale, most of our students come from relatively remote suburbs and rural areas and a considerable number of students are first generation learners. An inclusive educational programme being the motto, we accommodate large numbers of students belonging to SC, ST, OBC and Minority community. We are functioning continuously to upgrade our service by introducing new subjects and teaching methods in order to keep pace with the changing pattern of higher education in our state and country. We are constantly working to integrate our system with the emergent latest methodologies and application of technologies in higher education.

Vision

The vision of any institution contains the ideological framework within which it designs its performance to achieve its idealistic crux. The primary vision of our college is to create an environment which facilitates an education system ensuring quality and quantitative resources for the students to enable them to tackle the changes and challenges of the technology driven world along with the proliferating possibilities of academia. The educators being the facilitators, we always put our effort to promote each student to build up his or her own identity in the special field of interest. It is quite natural that all students do not have the equal amount of capacity or same kind of talent, and therefore, each one is capable of attaining success in a different way. We grip fairness and liability through measurable learning outcomes, ethical data-driven decisions and student achievement. It has been our constant concern to beat this urge by getting students and teachers to work collectively to serve the cause of education in particular, and holistic humane development in general, for the betterment of the coming generation so that they live in a world "Where the mind is without fear and ... knowledge is free". We regularly organise seminars/webinars, workshops, environmental awareness programmes, cultural programmes, health programmes, NSS camps, educational excursions, career counselling sessions, sports and other co-curricular activities for students to acquire knowledge beyond the boundaries of undergraduate curriculum. Our college also provides various innovative educational opportunities and student support services to assist students in their successful completion of three years undergraduate degrees of specific curriculum designed by the University of Calcutta. The college has already started putting its plan into action in near future of introducing vocational courses which would be a significant move forward in this path and bring out positive result. In spite of limited financial resources and inadequate building capacity (6300 sq. feet), the college offers 14 undergraduate programs of B.A., B.Sc. and B.Com.

However, presently "Mere anarchy is let loose everywhere" (W. B. Yeats). The world-wide pandemic appeared to have stopped the flow of time itself. Yet with the basic humane instinct to struggle against and survive all odds, we gradually learned to cope up with the new normal situation. We introduced extensive on-line teaching and intensive academic interaction with our students. It was really a great challenge for us to integrate the students, a huge bulk coming from rural areas, in the latest version educational programme and we tried to overcome the hurdle by various methods like counselling the traumatized lot, learning and teaching newer technological and systems of e learning, arranging webinars to establish contact with other institutions and reach out to people across state and even national borders, to promote the students with cultural inclinations by arranging cultural programmes on E-platforms where teachers participated as co-performers and organizing other activities associated with NSS, NCC, Eco Club etc. However, treading along the digital universe, we never shook our responsibility to minimize the digital divide and tried our best to accommodate maximum possible number of students in various programmes and we shall continue our best effort to this direction. We shall leave no room for any doubt about the fact that the college will scale even better heights in the years to come and serve many more millions in the society.

Aim

Our main objective is to provide a secure, welcoming, accessible environment where all students optimize their academic career and cultural development.

We aim at quality and brilliance in all aspects of teaching, learning, and assessment as well as from corner to corner campus facilities.

We are innovative and creative in our attitude and approach, and encourage these qualities in our students.

We put our effort to create platforms for students to get exposure to various career opportunities.

We labour to develop and nurture democratic collaborative and cooperative sensibilities among our students to train them to become citizens of an inclusive world.

We also aim to inculcate effective and sustainable management of whatever limited resources we have and implement it towards stakeholders of the college.

Mission

The college provides sufficient teachers to offer quality teaching through the development of significant thoughts, successful communication, creativity and cultural consciousness amidst a safe, accessible and inexpensive learning community. We have further plans to offer technological services and support for the students, better infrastructural amenities, greater number of faculties and staff, wider scope for intra and inter college curricular, ideological and cultural exchange and like others.

We dream of a time coming closer to us when the entire college will assume a new look and exude the glow of wellbeing and all-round development by materializing our mission into reality of registering the cordial and collaborative effort of faculty members, the non-teaching staff and the students under the clean, efficient and transparent administration of the college authority. Therefore, our committed labour will be engineered to concretize following promises:

To deliver programs to improve computer literacy, i.e., soft skill enhancement. To introduce job-oriented diploma and bachelor of vocational courses.

To provide financial support to the faculty for research works.

To seek collaboration from all sectors of the college and the community.

To nurture a learning community where the values, goals, and learning styles of all students are accepted and supported by the society.

To make the whole campus a green campus driven by green technology.

To build high standard of integrity and performance to achieve academic as well as professional goals.

To promote and put into practice various NSS schemes to nourish the sense of community living among students.

To mobilize necessary fund with the grants from the government and the other available sources and utilize it to furnish the library with greater number of books and other knowledge resources, to equip the laboratories with more modern infrastructure, to ensure the availability of better classroom facilities, and to complete the reconstruction and expansion of the college building in order to house properly the increasing number of student intake.

Ambience

Away from the din and bustle of city, the college is located in the quiet locality of Ramkrishna Pally of Behala. It is well connected with the Diamond Harbour Road from Behala Tram Depot by rickshaw and auto-rickshaw. The college is housed in a moderately spacious four-storied building. The adjoining area is predominantly inhabited by peace loving middle class people. There are some educational institutes in its vicinity. Thus the location is ideally suited to an institution of higher learning.

Academic Calendar

The Academic Calendar serves as an information source and planning document for students, faculty, staff and departments, as well as outside organizations. It is to keep students, faculty, and staff reminded of key dates throughout the academic semester and year. The calendar includes registration dates, class start dates, exam dates, celebration of important festivals, heroic day and many more. It can also be useful for prospective students, alumni, and parents as well. Each educational institution creates its own academic calendar with their own defined dates.

The primary reason for having a calendar is to organize the days, weeks, months and years. It keeps a track of which day of the week events fall and when special events are going to happen. Historically speaking calendars were often used to preserve religious holidays and events.

College annual calendar is a representation of planning of college, which is scheduled for whole year. It is a setting of exact college activities which can be done according to appropriate time. During the academic year, college has supposed to do many activities related with scholastic and co-scholastic. To make all the activities possible, it is a need of planning. So annual calendar is a planning for college to do all the college related programs in a particular time.

The official record documenting approved programs, courses, schedule and policies governing the annual academic business of the College for the period beginning July 1st and ending June 30th.

History's primary purpose is to stand at the centre of diverse, tolerant, intellectually rigorous debate about our existence. The History Department prepares students for a wide range of careers by teaching a core set of transferable skills through the study of societies and cultures across a broad chronological and geographical spectrum. History, as a subject of teaching and learning, values an honest public engagement with the past, its meaning and cultural values and its consequences for today which will help build a skilled, critically aware and informed set of students.

The History Department seeks to build its students transferable skills, employability and intellectual curiosity, along with raising public awareness about the past and its legacies - through teaching in the classroom and educational excursions by observing historical objects. The theories are from orthodox traditional systems and heterodox modern systems covering both Indian philosophy and Western philosophy. Our department follows a pragmatic method of teaching which goes beyond typical classroom teaching to various intra and inter departmental activities which include arranging seminars by bringing experts from different walks of life as speakers, poster making competitions, cultural programs and educational tours. The study of philosophy helps to develop our inner qualities like kindness, sympathy, tolerance, humility and equanimity. In this way philosophy paves the way towards humanism.

Departmental Activities -

Keeping in mind the broad spectrum of philosophy, we, the department of Philosophy, Kishore Bharati Bhagini Nivedita College, had arranged two webinars in the past academic session (July 2020 to June 2021), one national and one international during the difficult Covid-19 situation under 'new normal' circumstances. The topic of the national webinar was 'Emergence of new trends in the backdrop of Covid-19'. This webinar was jointly organised with the department of History in collaboration with IQAC, Kishore Bharati Bhagini Nivedita College. The focus of this webinar was handling two major issues during pandemic- education and health. To discuss and debate over these issues we had invited two eminent speakers; author, educationist, teacher C.A.V. Pattabhi Ram based out of Chennai and Dr. P.K.B. Patnaik, Additional Director of health services, Government of Odisha. Around hundred and fifty people attended and benefitted from this webinar. Our international webinar, promoted and sponsored by Indian Council of Philosophical Research, was on an ancient moral concept of Indian Philosophy - Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam. This concept which promotes universal love and brotherhood, a concept which respects humanity and being human, is very much relevant during this pandemic time when the entire human race is under threat. The speakers of this webinar were three legendary teachers - Dr. Sirajul Islam, Professor and former head, Department of Philosophy & Comparative Religion from Visva Bharati University, Dr. Ganesh Prasad Das, former professor of department of Philosophy, Utkal University, Bhubaneswar, and Dr. Narasingha Charan Panda, ICCR chair and visiting professor of Silpakon University, Bangkok. About five hundred participants from around the world actively participated in the webinar. At the end of the webinar we had organised for a paper presentation session to give the researchers a platform to express and clarify their views.

Department of Political Science

The Department of Political Science in our college, offers both honours and general courses. We follow the Calcutta University curriculum and hence, have a balanced emphasis on theory and current affairs. Being the one of the most dynamic of all social sciences, our study pattern cannot strictly be book-oriented. We depend a lot on material especially, current material sourced from both the print and visual media. Students are taken out various field trips and educational excursions, both in and out of Kolkata. This department holds a lot of extracurricular activities to enhance interests amongst our students. We hold student seminars, quiz contests, open-book competitions, poster paintings, extempores, debates, both subject oriented and otherwise. Under the current circumstances we have also held various web-seminars in collaboration with partner colleges.

Our departmental student-teacher interactions go way beyond discussing curriculum, students are counselled if necessary, this goes on to build a deep familial bond, strong and empathetic.

Departmental Activities -

The COVID-19 pandemic is impacting all parts of human society. Everyone is concerned about how the pandemic will affect their families, friends, and people around the world. But we also have a duty to think about how it will impact the world's biodiversity and our ability to protect it, as well as how it might affect the training and careers of field-based subjects.

Across the world, universities and research institutes have shut down. As with other subjects, under graduate courses having practical as critical components are being cancelled or moved online. In practice, this means that professors with little prior online teaching experience are now teaching students with little experience in online learning. This can work well for some topics, but zoology is an applied science and students will miss the practical, hands-on experiences gained through labs and field courses. The consequences will depend on how long the shut-down continues and whether practical components of their training can be postponed until later.

In view of the above, the Department of Zoology has been organising online 'Nature Talk' series on different aspects of conservation and sustainable development to educate students. Three such programs have already been organised and more will be done in next academic session. Students and faculty members of the college had attended the sessions.

Department of Economics

The term "Economy" is derived from the Greek word "Oikonomia". 'Oikos' means household and 'nemein' means management. So the term "Oikonomia" means household management. Economics is nothing but management of the economy. It is the social science that deals with the production, distribution and consumption of goods and services. According to Jacob Viner "Economics is what economies do". Studying economics is important because it helps to understand that what is the driving force behind the different economic activities and how people in the society faced with different problems are making decision. This field is broadly broken down into: macroeconomics and microeconomics. Macroeconomics discusses the behaviour of the aggregate economy and Microeconomics concentrates on individual consumers and businesses.

Mock Parliament

The students of the college in collaboration with the department of political science participate every year in the district level mock parliament competition organized by the ministry of Parliamentary Affairs.

Parent-Teacher Meeting

In keeping with the academic rigors demanded by undergraduate education, all departments in the college conduct meetings between teachers and parents at periodic intervals. As per the institutional calendar, these parent-teacher meetings happen twice in the first year of admission – viz. after the college mid-term examinations and subsequently, following the publication of pre-university Test results.

The meetings are notified well in advance and are meant as deliberative spaces between all teachers in the department and guardians/parents of students. Not only do teachers discuss the individual performance of students and suggest means of improving the same, but the meetings are also intended to be a feedback mechanism through which the anxieties and concerns of students may be addressed. Also, through a periodic review of each student's academic progress over classroom exercises, class tests and college level examinations, the meetings are effectively a means of understanding the particular problem-areas of every individual student. In this, such spaces of interpersonal engagement and discussion can also become instruments of counselling students with regard to their future possibilities, strengths and focus. Since much suggestion is made in terms of general academic requirements for undergraduate study, the parent-teacher meetings in college are a platform for both one-to-one as well as collective mobilizations of student potential. Also, there are attempts to address the divergent social backgrounds of students through specific remedial arrangements with the college. Understandingly, the parent-teacher meeting has occasioned a lot of earnest engagement over time and thus translating into real improvement of students' performance.

College Canteen

A spacious canteen is run in the college campus to ensure the supply of nutritious and hygienic food at a subsidised rate to the students.

Open Book Exam.

Our college also organizes Open Book Exam. where students are allowed to bring notes, texts and/ or other resources into the exam room. This tests the student's ability to analyse and find answers to difficult question and apply the information in solving the problems.

Excursion & Departmental Field Trips

The knowledge lasts longest and acquires greatest depth when it is acquired through joyful learning and ensures creative spontaneity. In order to meet the goal all the departments arrange for educational excursions for the students whether it is mandated the syllabi of university or not. The duration, kind and place vary according to the requirements of respective departments.

Geography and Zoology Departments organize field trips for a longer period of about a week, to fulfil their curricular obligations as per the requirement of the Calcutta University Syllabus. It helps in developing the student's on-field or practical knowledge about the subject. It also helps in scientific and methodical understanding of the various landform features and also in-depth knowledge about the flora and fauna.

Humanities Departments focus on inculcating curiosity, sympathy and appreciation for nature, historical/ archaeological sites, architectural wonders, cultural archives and other places to enliven book-bound learning.

Note: Amidst this COVID pandemic no field trips have been conducted during last academic session. All the images are from previous visits.

In the last couple of years' college has seen a spurt of cultural activities initiated by the students themselves. In addition to continuing with the old cultural traditions, they also added newer celebrations to enliven their days, promote better co – operation between students and teachers and better bonding among the students themselves.

The rich diversity of the Indian culture embraced down the era and of various religious rituals and their transmogrification into socio – cultural festivals which integrates the whole society is the mark of India. Our institution responds with full fervour to these occasions. Saraswati Puja is celebrated with pomp and colour, owing to great enthusiasm, dedication and hard work along with active participation of teachers and non – teaching staff. The puja room is decorated beautifully exuding both aesthetic finesse and a sense of social awareness. The celebration enjoys coverage in print and electronic media. The post festival feast conducted by the students with cordial care reinforces the bonding amongst the members of the college. The Holi/Dol Yatra gets vibrant with celebration of Basanta Utsav as the festival of colour is amalgamated with enthralling cultural performances. The enthusiastic participation of students in the Iftar party, arranged after the classes are over, instantiates the rejuvenating power of youth. On the twenty-eighth day of the Ramzan month the students congregate for Namaz and the feast generates happiness and healthy human bonding. The ties of unity gets tighter in the occasion of Rakhi Utsav as our students apart from tying rakhis within the college campus, also walk in a rally distributing rakhi and sweets in and around the locality envisaging a possibility of pan-universal bonding across all boundaries. The chill of December gets warm with dissemination of warmth and love during the celebration of the Christmas day; cakes and candles kindles a cordial and culturally enriching atmosphere in the college campus.
